Wise Up Community Home Education Group offers support and information to families from throughout South Wales who educate their children at home and those who are considering home education as an option. All sorts of families choose home education instead of school for all sorts of reasons including bullying, peer pressure, additional learning needs, testing and so that their children can follow their own interests instead of learning from a curriculum. Wise Up provides telephone and email support, social and educational opportunities and information through a website and reference library. At our Wednesday Club in Port Talbot, families of all ages take part in workshops, courses and activities including science, sport, music, arts, crafts, dance, yoga and circus skills. We also run trips, outdoor play and team building days and lots of other activities. If you are interested in home education please take a contact slip.
